CareerMatri · MAT — job posting analysis for students and researchers in Korea

Check Korean job postings against your experience, in English

MAT is software in the CareerMatri app. Paste a job posting, Korean or English, and MAT compares each requirement with your experience. What the posting says about Korean language level (such as TOPIK) and foreign applicants is quoted as written.

How it works

1. Paste a posting. Paste the text of a posting from any site, in Korean or English. MAT also lists JobIndustry postings that share terms with your major and experience; you apply on the original posting yourself.
2. Each requirement against your experience. For each required and preferred item, MAT marks your experience as Fits, Partly, Missing or Check, and names the item to fill first. Your experience and CV can be in English.
3. Korean language and foreign applicants. If the posting has sentences about TOPIK, Korean language ability, nationality or foreign applicants, MAT quotes them as written. MAT does not give visa or immigration advice and does not add conditions the posting does not state.

Korean postings: MAT shows the requirements in English when its English reading is available. Otherwise it shows the original Korean lines and marks them as Korean.
